CLASS D SHARES

SUPPLEMENT DATED OCTOBER 7, 2011 TO
SUMMARY PROSPECTUS DATED APRIL 1, 2011

This supplement provides new information beyond that contained in the Summary Prospectus and should be read in conjunction with the Summary Prospectus.

Effective October 13, 2011, the Class C Shares and Class D Shares classes of the Bond Portfolio (the “Portfolio”) will be closed to investment by new accounts. At the close of business on November 28, 2011, current shareholders of Class C Shares and Class D Shares of the Portfolio will have their shares automatically converted to Class A Shares of the Portfolio on the basis of the relative net asset value per share of the share classes as of the close of business on November 28, 2011. Affected shareholders will not incur any transaction costs in connection with this conversion, and such conversion will be on a tax-free basis. Please see the complete Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information (“SAI”) for information regarding the characteristics of Class A Shares. Until the close of business on November 28, 2011, current account holders may purchase additional Class C Shares or Class D Shares of the Portfolio, as well as redeem or exchange their Class C Shares or Class D Shares, respectively, for Class C Shares or Class D Shares of other Northern Institutional Funds, as described in the Portfolio’s complete Prospectus and SAI. Financial intermediaries who currently contract with Northern Institutional Funds to receive shareholder servicing payments under the Northern Institutional Funds’ Service Plans for Class C and Class D Shares will be requested to enter into similar contracts with Northern Trust Investments, Inc. to receive the same shareholder servicing payments they are currently receiving.

⁽¹⁾ Northern Trust Investments, Inc. ("NTI" or the "Investment Adviser") has contractually agreed to waive a portion of its management fees and reimburse certain expenses of the Portfolio. The contractual waiver and reimbursement arrangements are expected to continue until at least April 1, 2012. After this date, NTI or the Portfolio may terminate the contractual arrangements. The Portfolio's Board of Trustees may terminate the contractual arrangements at any time if it determines that it is in the best interest of the Portfolio and its shareholders.

EXAMPLE

The following Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Portfolio with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Portfolio for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Portfolio's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A	$38	$165	$303	$706
Class C	$62	$241	$434	$994
Class D	$78	$288	$516	$1,171

PORTFOLIO TURNOVER. The Portfolio pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Portfolio shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual portfolio operating expenses or in the Example, affect the Portfolio's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Portfolio's portfolio turnover rate was 709.09% of the average value of its portfolio.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The Portfolio will seek capital appreciation and current income in its attempt to maximize total return. In doing so, the Portfolio will invest, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its net assets in bonds and other fixed-income securities. These may include:

- Obligations of the U.S. government or its agencies, instrumentalities or sponsored enterprises, including obligations that are issued by private issuers that are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the U.S. government, its agencies or instrumentalities;
- Obligations of state, local and foreign governments;
- Obligations of domestic and foreign banks and corporations;
- Zero coupon bonds, debentures, preferred stock and convertible securities;
- Mortgage and other asset-backed securities;
- Stripped securities evidencing ownership of future interest or principal payments on debt obligations; and
- Repurchase agreements relating to the above instruments.

The Portfolio invests primarily in investment grade domestic debt obligations (i.e., obligations rated within the top four rating categories by a Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organization (“NRSRO”) or of comparable quality as determined by the Investment Adviser). However, it may invest to a limited extent in obligations of foreign issuers and in securities that are rated below investment grade (commonly referred to as “junk bonds”).

In buying and selling securities for the Portfolio, the investment management team uses a relative value approach. This approach involves an analysis of general economic and market conditions. It also involves the use of models that analyze and compare expected returns and assumed risks. Under the relative value approach, the investment management team will emphasize particular securities and types of securities (such as treasury, agency, asset-backed, mortgage-related and corporate securities) that the team believes will provide a favorable return in light of these risks.

The Portfolio’s dollar-weighted average maturity, under normal circumstances, will range between three and fifteen years. The investment management team may engage in active trading, and will not consider portfolio turnover a limiting factor in making decisions for the Portfolio.

PRINCIPAL RISKS

MARKET RISK is the risk that the market values of fixed-income securities owned by the Portfolio may decline, at times sharply and unpredictably.

MANAGEMENT RISK is the risk that a strategy used by the investment management team may fail to produce the intended results.

LIQUIDITY RISK is the risk that certain portfolio securities may be less liquid than others, which may make them difficult or impossible to sell at the time and the price that the Portfolio would like, adversely affecting the value of the Portfolio’s investments and its returns.

INTEREST RATE/MATURITY RISK is the risk that the value of the Portfolio’s assets will decline because of rising interest rates. This risk is generally lower for funds that have shorter-weighted maturities, such as money market funds and short-term bond funds. The magnitude of this decline will often be greater for longer-term fixed-income securities than shorter-term fixed income securities.

PREPAYMENT (OR CALL) RISK is the risk that prepayment of the underlying mortgage or other collateral of some fixed-income securities may result in a decreased rate of return and a decline in value of those securities.

DEBT EXTENSION RISK is the risk that an issuer will exercise its right to pay principal on an obligation held by the Portfolio (such as a mortgage-backed security) later than expected. This may happen during a period of rising interest rates. Under these circumstances, the value of the obligation will decrease and the Portfolio will suffer from the inability to invest in higher yielding securities.

CREDIT (OR DEFAULT) RISK is the risk that the inability or unwillingness of an issuer or guarantor of a fixed-income security, or a counterparty to a repurchase or other transaction, to meet its payment or other financial obligations will adversely affect the value of the Portfolio’s investments and its returns. Changes in the credit rating of a debt security held by the Portfolio could have a similar effect.

CURRENCY RISK is the risk that foreign currencies will fluctuate in value relative to the U.S. dollar, adversely affecting the value of the Portfolio’s investments and its returns. Because the Portfolio’s net asset value (“NAV”) is determined on the basis of U.S. dollars, you may lose money if the local currency of a foreign market depreciates against the U.S. dollar, even if the market value of the Portfolio’s holdings appreciates.

FOREIGN SECURITIES RISK is the risk that investing in foreign (non-U.S.) securities may result in the Portfolio experiencing more rapid and extreme changes in value than a fund that invests exclusively in securities of U.S. companies, due to less liquid markets, and adverse economic, political, diplomatic, financial, and regulatory factors. Foreign governments also may impose limits on investment and repatriation and impose taxes. Any of these events could cause the value of the Portfolio’s investments to decline.

HIGH-YIELD RISK is the risk that the Portfolio’s non-investment grade fixed-income securities, sometimes known as “junk bonds,” will be subject to greater credit risk, price volatility and risk of loss than investment grade securities, which can adversely impact the Portfolio’s return and net asset value. High yield securities are considered primarily speculative with respect to the issuer’s continuing ability to make principal and interest payment.

PORTFOLIO TURNOVER RISK is the risk that high portfolio turnover is likely to lead to increased Portfolio expenses that may result in lower investment returns. High portfolio turnover also is likely to result in higher short-term capital gains taxable to shareholders. For the last fiscal year, the annual portfolio turnover rate of the Portfolio exceeded 100%.

As with any mutual fund, it is possible to lose money on an investment in the Portfolio. An investment in the Portfolio is not a deposit of any bank and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, any other government agency, or The Northern Trust Company, its affiliates, subsidiaries or any other bank.

PORTFOLIO PERFORMANCE

The bar chart and table that follow provide an indication of the risks of investing in the Portfolio by showing (A) changes in the performance of the Portfolio’s Class A Shares from year to year, and (B) how the average annual total returns of the Portfolio’s outstanding classes of shares compare to those of a broad-based securities market index.

The Portfolio's past performance, before and after taxes, is not necessarily an indication of how the Portfolio will perform in the future.

PAYMENTS TO BROKERS-DEALERS AND OTHER FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES

If you purchase the Portfolio through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the Portfolio and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Portfolio shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Portfolio over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's Web site for more information.
